From Hide to Shoe

There are reasons—GOOD REASONS why you should buyROUGE REX SHOESFirst. They are economical—not cheap, mind you—but economical in that they give more real wearing service to the dollar than any other make of shoes.Second. They are comfortable. It is not necessary in order that a shoe give service that it be made of stiff, hard leather that irritates and chafes the feet, and that cannot be made over respectable looking lasts.
The leather in our work shoes is as soft and pliable as buckskin, but tough as wrought iron. And ROUGE REX SHOES FIT. They please from the day they are first put on until they are worn out.
Look for the above trade-mark in colors on your dealer's shelves, and when you find it, ask to see the shoes. Note the mark well—an Indian head on a skin. It is also stamped on the bottom of every shoe, and is a sure sign of quality.

Write us and we will give you the name of the dealer handling them.

READING TO AVOID THINKING

It Almost Seems That Things Have Been Arranged to Bring About Just That Situation.The danger of thinking has been reduced to a minimum. One sometimes feels that life has been arranged in sole regard to this. There are more ways to avoid thinking than there are to avoid everything else put together.
Some people live to a good old age without having ever thought; some are overtaken and made to stand face to face with their thoughts during a long illness and convalescence. Flat on their backs, with nothing to do, they can hardly be blamed for thinking. Their cases are exceptional and thoughts at such a time are not to be laid up against them. If there is no other mode of escape from an introduction to one's mind they can always read. It is a method which has helped millions of people. There was a time when it seemed that during a voyage one was in danger of being left alone with one's self, but libraries were installed in ships, newsboys on trains, and so once more we were rescued. Then the dozen little activities of daily life help so—bustling, sewing on buttons—one manages to put off the thing we think we do most of all until old age, and when that is reached we comfortably decide to postpone our thinking once again, as we will have more time in the next world.Century Korean Book.
The Korean chronicles on the Korean invasion of the Japanese invasion of China at the end of the sixteenth century. Book entitled "Ching Pi Nok" is considered to be most trustworthy.
The author of the book, Yu Song-yong, was one of the ministers at that time and personally witnessed the progress of the Korean war.New copies of the original edition of the book are in existence and they are highly valued by historians. The blocks used in the book were long known to be lost. But their whereabouts were discovered. Many will be pleased to hear that they were recovered in their entirety by the certain remote
Press.Dream That Saved Life.
"Hints conveyed by dreams are occasional 'worth heeding,'" says the London Chronicle. "The late Lord Oufferin when in Paris dreamed that he was in a hearse on the way to the cemetery. A few days later, as he was about to enter the elevator of a certain hotel, he was startled to find that the attendant was a double of the driver of the hearse in his dream.
He thereupon promptly left the elevator and walked upstairs. The car ascended without him, but as it reached the top something in the mechanism gave way, and the passengers met their death. Had they also, one wonders, been forewarned in a dream?"

ABLE TO GET HOME.

Rev. C. E. Varney, who came home ill last Saturday, is slowly improving and able to be out on the street again.
Mr. Varney was taken ill with bronchitis while filling one of his Chautauqua dates at Kankakee, Ill., three weeks ago and Saturday last was the first time he felt able to make the journey home.
Mrs. Varney took her husband's place on the platform and will fill the dates until he is able to resume active work.
The many friends of Mr. Varney hope for a speedy recovery to health.

Women.

When two women meet for the first time they have a hard time getting acquainted until the discovery is made of a similarity in their troubles. Then they clasp hands and swim right out together.—Atchison Globe.

Diamond Will Indent Steel.

While the diamond is the hardest substance known it is also brittle and may be fractured by a blow. But if it is placed between two hard steel faces in a hydraulic press and a slowly accelerating pressure applied the hard steel will become indented.
